Notes for judging the presentations

As a judge (remember you are the Home Secretary for the Government) you will need to look for how well the presenters impressed you by asking yourself these questions and then giving each group a score out of 6.

The Presentation

Did they persuade you of the arguments they were trying to put forward?

Did they present their project well?

Were the audience interested in what they had to say?

Did they look at the audience when they were speaking?

Did they speak clearly so that everyone could hear?

Did they show a good understanding and knowledge of their project?

Were they well organised when using resources?

Did they answer questions from the audience with confidence?

Something that has changed the way I think about this topic.

Something that I want to take away and share with someone.

Something I already knew or wasn't helpful.

Something that has changed the way I feel about this topic.

What have you enjoyed?

What skills have you developed?
